

Terms and Conditions

1. Terms of Service

By signing up for LaciCloud you become subject to the following requirements.

1A Files

LaciCloud will contact you if any authority/entity wants a file removed and/or wants to take legal action.
Here are some files that you shouldn't upload:

Files that infringe on the copyrights of any entity.

Files that are illegal and/or are in violation of any laws.

We don't look at ANY of your data, but if some EUROPEAN authority/entity contacts us with regards to copyright infringement, and it is actually infringing (I have the sole discretion of determining that, NOT the entity) we will remove the file with a 3 day prior warning to you by Email. During that 3 days the user can make a backup or delete the file if he wishes to. A user account will NEVER be closed due to copyright issues. As for non-European DMCA; we do not have to, and we will not comply with DMCA requests unless legally threatened.

The user should take appropriate action (ex; encryption, not posting to public forums), in order for their files not to be flagged.

2. Privacy Policy

No data will be shared with any third party companies , individuals, or government entities. I would never allow any 3rd party access to your data; numerous safeguards have been put in place to prevent law enforcement accessing the LaciCloud server. I'd destroy the LaciCloud server with a wrench before I'd let anyone access your data.

Unless of course you are hosting CP, snuff films, or other really bad stuff. Then LaciCloud will do it's best to comply with said police request.
